Course Message Tool Error Messages

Students and instructors might encounter an “Access Denied” or similar error message when performing the following actions when using the Course Messages tool:

- Editing an existing course message folder’s name.

Blackboard has identified this as a known software defect that will be resolved in a future service pack update.

There is no work around solution for editing the names of existing course message folders.