

Known Issue

ISSUE DESCRIPTION

When students submit PDF documents containing completed form fields as assignments in Blackboard, the student's document might not display the completed fields when previewed within Blackboard's Crocodoc inline document viewer. Crocodocs might display a preview of the document with blank form fields. When the submitted PDF file is downloaded and viewed in Adobe Acrobat Reader, the completed form fields will be visible. Blackboard has confirmed that this is a bug that is planned to be fixed in a specific future release of Learn, but that release is not yet available.
